Kagan.

- On 25 September 1951, there was no change in the occupation of the barracks installation in Kagan (P 49/X 49) by troops who wore red-bordered black epaulets. The parking lot for tanks, which was vacant in late August, was again occupied by nine Shchuka tanks. One SU-100 and 2 SU-249 SP guns were seen in the ditch between the barracks installation and the athletic ground which served as a tank target range. Seven guns of about 80-mm with muzzle brake and 6 guns with protective shields and funnel-shaped muzzle brakes were parked in the section of the installation which quartered AAA troops. 25X1B 25X1B

Vienna.

- On 25 September 1951, the Albrechts Kaserne and the Wilhelms Kaserne in Vienna were occupied by troops who wore red-bordered black epaulets, some with motor transport insignia. About 40 tank trucks and about 55 trucks were observed there. Improvement of the fences rendered the view into the installation more difficult.
- The fuel depot which was previously located opposite the Albrechts Kaserne was moved to a section of the Wilhelms Kaserne. Unguarded Austrian civilians were observed working at the site of the former fuel depot.  25X1B
